“ We made so many memories and I have to say you truly are the love of my life. I fell like a big part of me went with you baby.. I keep thinking that I'm gonna turn around and You will be there like you always did for some reason I hold on to that. . You always came home but you never stayed gone this long. You are here with me every minute of every day..You are in everything that is beautiful everything thing that is kind everything where there is love.I will alwayslove you. There's just no one quite like you. You could make me smile and laugh like no one else. No matter what it was you who made me happy. I don't laugh much yet but I do remember our hopes and dreams. No one will ever hold me like you no one has the love you had inside. Your heart was so big. You would tell me that something I did would upset you if it was someone else but because you knew whatever I did concerning you was from my heart.I remember you getting upset and going downstairs. I called for you and you answered me in 3 different voices. A Mexican a black man and an Asian guy. You had me rolling. Then you said the sweetest thing. I had to go through these 3 guys to get to you. I said where is Chris and you said he's here and he said to tell you he loves you and he wants to hold you. So that's what you did.nYou would say all the things you would say with such passion.You were and are everything to me.I mean you taught me so much about doing things just because.nfrom going all through St.Louis to the arch the water front walking the boardwalk eating shaved ice hlding hands. Picking me up like a baby and giving me piggy back rides. Doing things that made life a lil sweeter. Just like holding me with my head on your chest and when your songs to me came on 'turn the lights down low would come on ' it didn't matter who was there you would sing it to me and when the high part came on you would give it all you and my you would play with my hair and when I started to fall asleep I would look at you and you would be staring at me with the sweetest look on your face. I would feel so safe and the love that we felt was real. I can't believe You are gone so I won't I'll keep you in every beat of my heart and hold on to the love that you brought in my life.I listen to your voice and see you everyday U we're the best and for all the love I feel because you came into my life I will nbe forever blessed. I wish You could see all the great things you are t.God did and so do I. I can't wait to be up there with you

Our love story isn't over ...

“ This is my second attempt at this. Chris was my moms best friend so he been in my life for a long time as i am now 28yrs old. Me and Chris had some adventures back in the day that still make me shake my head in wonder.....wat the hell was i thinking lol. But never would you meet someone with a bigger heart than Chris. Now sometimes had a weird way of showing it but a genuine person. Gonna miss the hell out ya homie and i hope that you have finally found some peace. RIP brotha

Dj Lambert - March 13, 2019 at 04:58 PM

“ Dude where to even start. You were an awesome person, anytime I needed a friend no matter where you were you would stop and come to me or I would pick you up and we would mostly drive around or go get food. You were like a brother man, you didn't just come around when you needed something but you came also when I needed something. Breaks my heart cause you are the second person I have lost in the last month, my dad is up there too, will you watch out for him? Fly high man, much love always

“ I didn't know Chris. I lost my son also. I just wanted to say the flames that glow brightest seem to be the ones that burn out the quickest. He sounds like an awesome person. You should be proud. There is a group on Facebook for families going through this type of situation - GRASP. It's helped me. God bless. Much love. Corey's momma 8/8/2017

“ I'll always remember the day we were riding in my truck & there was a couple of girls walking you looked at them & not missing a beat you said look at the prost-a-tots. I lost it. We laughed. I'll always remember the way you smiled & could make me laugh even when I was so mad. RIP Fly high with the angels my friend.....

“ this is something I would have never thought I had to do. wow chris the first time I met you after my car accident with our friend steve you were such a awesome person. You didn't hesitate to offer help since I wasn't able to drive and helped out at my place. Well I can say after that time we met we became fast friends and even after I moved to Alaska each time I went back to visit me and you would go out and just enjoy the few days and have a blast. I know your mom and dad loved you so much. I saw that when I was able to visit you when you were at your moms place and then also at your dads house. I will never forget all the good times we had and you are going to be a special person in my life. Thank you so much for touching my life in a positive way. I know we are all not perfect people but you were genuine to me. And I was honored to have met your family through the years. and now when sara has her birthday we will always include you in your birthday. I will miss you so much chris and I will keep in touch with your family also. I love you very much and will miss you so much. I am at a loss for words anymore still in shock but again I love you and miss you already. I hope you are at peace now. Love Jenny

“ We've always shared a special connection and joke we're twins - both born on 7/9/79 Now I won't have anyone to share my birthday with and a part of me is forever missing. I can't believe it still... I saw you last week, and never would have guessed that was the last time I would EVER see you. It hurts, but you'll always be remembered as a sweet, funny guy and will be greatly missed.

“ Okay Chris I've got one for you you remember when me you Matt and Kyle found the construction site tire that was big enough for us to fit in and before we decided to we tested it and almost took out the light post at the bottom of Kyle's Hill there's honestly too much to even write down on this page but you remember when we used to walk across the frozen pond when we were running through the neighborhoods one day your ass almost fell in oh and remember the time that we drove our four wheelers on Highway 370 before they built it or what about the time that we stole all of their construction vehicles and drove them around for the day... If anyone can please get a hold of me through Facebook I'd like to speak to Mom and Dad God bless buddy

“ I would go to his girlfriend Debbie's house. He would come to me and say "what do you think about this scenerio". I would always listen and give him my opinion. If it sounded like I was on her side, he would say "of course ur on her side cuz your her friend." If it sounded like a hint of agreeing with him he'd tell her I told ya! I always told him my opinion is how I feel in my heart and in my mind. It doesn't mean I agree with someone or I'm taking sides. He would crack us up with his "scenerios"! Luv u bud! U will b missed! RIP Tammy Williams

“ I have many fond memories of my cousin Christopher as a child. Sleepovers at his house, swimming, riding his go cart and hanging out in his rope ladder club house above the shed in his backyard. He was always good to me and I miss his laugh. My childhood would not have been the same without him.

Patrick Hughes - March 09, 2019 at 09:17 AM

“ I have grown up as one of his kids. He always treated me like his daughter along with Jack Ingram. They were the best of friends. I remember when he would get me clothes and toys and when he would calm me down and have actual conversations with me. I will never forget about how funny of a person he was. He could always bring a smile to your face. He was someone you just felt safe around. You could tell he wouldn't hurt you even if he was mad or upset with you. He was trustworthy and he was reliable. My childhood would be empty without him being there...
